

The Maxine Moore Music Academy, founded in 2005, was made possible by a generous donation from Mr. Ray Moore in memory of his wife, the late Maxine Moore. Our mission is to bring glory to God, to provide excellent musical instruction, and to enable our students to achieve their personal best in musical expression. All of our instructors are dedicated Christian professionals with college degrees and/or Music Conservatory Certificates in their fields.

PRIVATE LESSONS

Private music lessons are taught on the CMDS campus in the Wilson Ross Educational Building in 30-minute sessions. Lesson days and times are set according to student-teacher availability during the school day, as well as after school, on an individual basis. Advanced students may take 45- or 60-minute lessons with instructor recommendation.

ROCK 3:16 Rock and Praise Band Class

Developed by our guitar instructor and MMMA director Rick Forbus, several years before "The School of Rock" movie was released, ROCK 3:16 is a one-hour class consisting of three to six students on complementary instruments (guitar, bass, drums, keyboards, vocals). Assembled by age, ability level and, when possible, taste in music, students learn how to work and perform as a band, in a hands-on setting using pop, rock, contemporary country and praise music. Prior music lessons and his/her own instrument are pre-requisites for this exciting and innovative class.

ROCK 3:16 follows the same calendar and schedule as private lessons. The cost is $490 per semester for 14, 60-minute lessons. There are additional requirements and policies for ROCK 3:16 participation. Please contact Rick Forbus, rforbus@cmdsmemphis.org or 901-289-0418, for more information.
